EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1901.

TWO CENTS.

CITY COUNCIL WILL BE ASKED TO ERECT GARBAGE FURNACE

Board of Health Adopted a Resolution to That Effect.

HELD A MEETING LAST NIGHT

NEW PLANT WILL COST $12,000

Robert Bursner, Manager of the Sanitary Reduction Company, Made a Proposition Which Was Ignored. Other Business Transacted.

Once again is the cumbersome and exasperating garbage question upon the shoulders of the city council for settlement. This was the decision reached by the board of health at the meeting held last night, and when the solons get an official notification of the action taken by the board there will doubtless be a wall of anguish arise from all sides.

In accordance with the instructions of the board, Clerk Herbert will present a resolution at the next meeting of council recommending that a $12,000 garbage furnace be built in East Liverpool. This conclusion was reached by the health board after hearing the report of Health Officer Ogden and Sanitary Officer Burgess, who inspected the furnace at Youngstown a few days since, a description of which has been given in the News Review.

Dr. Ogden declared the furnace, which is one of the Dixon make, to be a thorough success in every particular and Mr. Burgess corroborated the doctor's statement. Both gentlemen spoke assuringly concerning the absence of bad odors and claimed positively that no complaints had ever been registered by the Youngstown citizens. The plant complete cost $12,300, but Dr. Ogden said that the expense of maintaining it was very small.

Previous to talking over the furnace matter Mayor Davidson spoke concerning the garbage dump in the West End. He stated that he had made a thorough inspection of the ground and believed it was as cleanly kept as is possible to keep it. He agreed with others of the board, however, that a furnace was needed. Mr. Nellis said he was not favorably impressed with the present method of disposing of the offal and Mr. Burgess made known in unmistakable terms that he wasn't, either.

Mr. Burgess brought out some important points in substantiation of his claim that the West End dump should be abolished and very pointedly stated that it looked like "small potatoes" for a city the size of East Liverpool to be without a more metropolitan depository than at present in use. He stated that the refuse could be burned at less expense and in a more satisfactory manner, and he thought that immediate action to that effect should be taken.

Concerning the Youngstown furnace it was stated to the board that garbage alone was cremated, the night soil being buried. Dr. Ogden stated that the man in charge of the furnace claimed that it would not burn night soil and that none had ever been built that would successfully do so. At this juncture Robert Bursner, manager of the East Liverpool Sanitary Reduction company, addressed the board. He stated that the furnace in this city, recently abolished, would burn garbage alone as successfully as the one at Youngstown. Mr. Bursner further said the only trouble that had ever been experienced at the local furnace was because of night soil, and said it was the odor arising therefrom that had caused the complaints that led up to its abolishment.

In conclusion Mr. Bursner stated that his company was ready to submit a proposition to the board for the cremation of garbage alone, provided his furnace was put into commission again. He gave the assurance that the plant would be kept free from unnecessary stench and said that if any complaint was made he would be willing to give up his contract at any time.

Benjamin Haines expressed himself in terms unfavorable to the local furnace and thought a new one should be erected. Mr. Nellis coincided with Mr. Haines, and on motion the board decided to recommend to council that a Dixon plant be established here. Clerk Herbert was instructed to draw up a resolution to that effect, to be submitted to council at its next meeting.

Health Officer Ogden's report for the month of September was submitted and is as follows: Births, 27; deaths, 9. Causes of death: Spinal meningitis, 1; convulsions, 1; pneumonia, 2; cancer, 1; heart disease, 1; marasmus, 1; chronic diarrhoea, 1; diphtheria, 2.

Mayor, Davidson, Drs. Ogden, Mowen, Birkett and Norris and Messrs. Haines and Nellis were present at the meeting.

COUNCIL WILL BALK

Solons Are Not in Favor of Erecting Another Garbage Plant at Present.

The resolution adopted by the board of health at last night's meeting recommending to council the establishment of a $12,000 garbage plant, will in all possibility meet with disfavor by the latter body. Information gleaned from an interview with several of the solons today warrants the statement that the proposition to erect another garbage plant at the present, at least, will be turned down without consideration.

It is not disputed that a furnace is needed, but it is the $12,000 that will cause the solons to balk. One of the gentlemen stated that he thought the present furnace would answer all purposes for garbage alone and that he would strongly oppose the expenditure of a single penny for another.

Others said that they had been told by different members of the board of health that the present furnace was as good as any other for garbage purposes only, and declared they would not act on the board's resolution until the local plant had been given another trial.

Sanitary Officer Burgess says he is satisfied that with the night soil eliminated the Sanitary Reduction company's plant will do just as good service as any other ever built. He says that garbage can be burned without the offensive odor that was formerly complained of, and it is likely that council will ask his opinion of the matter at its next meeting.

DIVORCE COURT NEXT

Will Be Sought by Young Husband Whose Wife Has Left Him.

A young wife's inability to content herself with the comforts and pleasant environments of a new and attractive home provided by a devoted husband, has caused a separation on upper Lisbon street, and the matter will undoubtedly end in the divorce court.

The couple were married only four months ago, and were among the best known and most popular young people in the circle in which they moved. The lady was particularly fond of society, and it is said this weakness has been the cause of all the trouble.

The wife's fondness for dancing and other innocent and frivolous amusements took a peculiar turn. Although she seldom missed an affair of this character the husband was not included, and was always left at home. He became extremely weary of this, it is said, and resolved to put an end to it. The matter was talked over carefully, and the discussion ended in the young wife going to the home of her parents, while the neglected husband remained at his home. He states that the divorce court will be his last resort.

JUVENILE THIEVES

Reaping a Harvest From Slot Machines About Town.

Boy thieves are getting in their work in East Liverpool again, and slot machines in almost every part of the city have been tampered with or stolen. It is thought by the police that an organized gang of youngsters are doing all of the thieving, but as yet they have eluded detection.

Several petty thefts of this nature have been reported at police headquarters the past few days, the last being the theft of a chewing gum machine, which was carried away from Job Manley's place of business on Sixth street. The machine was recovered this morning, but there are several others missing that cannot be located.

SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY TICKET

Candidates For Two Important Offices Are From This County.

A REMARKABLE PETITION

Is That Presented to the Secretary of State—The Candidate for State Treasurer Now Doing Time in the Franklin County Workhouse.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 5.—The petition of the Socialist Labor party for a place on the Australian ballot this fall was presented to the secretary of state yesterday afternoon. The petition of the Socialist party was filed several days ago. Both parties are alike in many respects. The petition is composite in character, being made up of a number of small petitions. Francis Dixon, of East Liverpool, is the party's nominee for lieutenant governor. Samuel Borton, of Valley, close to Salem, is named for judge of the supreme court. Salem is given as his postoffice address.

Subjoined is the ticket: Governor, John H. T. Juergens, Canton; lieutenant governor, Francis Dixon, East Liverpool; treasurer, Theodore Adams, Columbus; attorney general, Francis Henry, Shererville, Carroll county; judge of supreme court, Samuel Borton, Valley, Columbiana county; clerk of supreme court, J. R. Fraser, Dayton; member of board of public works, Brower Margeson, Cleveland.

The petition contains 11,320 names, which is about 1,000 more than is needed. Most of the signatures were secured in Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties. Quite a number were furnished by East Liverpool. It is evident that an energetic canvass was made in the pottery city. Many of these petitioners need no introduction. It is certified that the names were obtained by John Kegal, a presser, who for many years worked at the "old end" pottery of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company. He resides at 249 College street, and is of German nationality.

The signature of a great many of the petitions from East Liverpool are almost wholly unintelligible. Some of them are most wonderfully and fearfully made, and would probably give an expert on character writing the "wiles" should he try to diagnose them to discover the traits of their owners. There is no painful uniformity to weary the eye of the peruser, but on the contrary the most delicious variety is provided. Some fellows who couldn't write just made their mark and let it go at that; others spread their John Henrys all over the paper.

The identity of not a few is buried in their signature. Some of the names bear a close resemblance to the traditional Indian hieroglyphics which can be found carved on rocks along the Ohio, above and below East Liverpool. One the whole the list presents splendid opportunities for study of the diverse styles of chirography. It must not be assumed, however, that all the signatures are illegible; for, forsooth, a certain percentage of them are well written. In some instances in transcribing them it was necessary to use a powerful magnifying glass, although a few were even impervious to this test.

Sixty names were secured in Salineville and a few from the northern section of the county.

Theodore Adams, of Columbus, candidate for state treasurer, is now serving a 20-day sentence in the workhouse for using seditious language about the late president. He was roughly handled by a mob and only prompt work by the police saved him. He was also fined heavily. He is a firebrand and makes speeches on street corners from the hurricane deck of a dry goods box.

BAD WOUNDS RESULT FROM A MAN'S FALL

William Davis, a carpenter, employed on the new S. H. Porter building, lower Broadway, was perhaps fatally injured there shortly after 1 o'clock today.

Davis was working in the basement and was engaged in erecting studding over a pit which had been made ready for the furnace. In changing his position Davis stepped upon a 2x4 timber which lay across the pit. The timber was weakened by a knot about the center of the piece and broke with his weight. He was pitched headlong into the pit, striking the edge of several timbers as he fell. He received a bad wound in the chest, and another under the right arm, the latter breaking a rib.

Dr. Taylor was summoned and fears the man may have been injured internally.

Davis is a married man, and with his wife and two children resides in Gardendale. He was taken there this afternoon.

Dr. W. L. Thompson Gives Bail For His Appearance at Court.

BUSY WEEK FOR THE COURT

Two East Liverpool Men Released From Jail, Grand Jury Failing to Indict—Next Week's Trial List.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Dr. W. L. Thompson, of East Liverpool, indicted for procuring a criminal operation that is alleged to have resulted in the death of Miss Lou Ada Moore, of Duquesne, Pa., was brought here last night by Deputy Sheriff Chris Bick.

The doctor was taken before Judge Boone in probate court, where he gave $1,500 for his appearance at court. His trial was set for Tuesday.

According to present arrangements, Dr. Thompson and Winnett, indicted on the same charge, will be tried together, but they may demand separate trials. Dr. Thompson has employed Congressman R. W. Taylor, of Lisbon, to defend him.

COURT ADJOURNED

Next Week Promises to Be a Busy One in Common Pleas.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Judge W. W. Hole last evening adjourned common pleas court until Monday at 11 a. m. Next week will be a busy one in court. A large number of important cases will be tried.

The following are the assignments of cases for next week:

Monday—Ohio vs. Fred Bradley; Ohio vs. Charles Button; Ohio vs. Andrew McCormick.

Tuesday—Ohio vs. Dr. W. L. Thompson and Robert Winnett; Ohio vs. William Trover.

Wednesday—Ohio vs. Charles White.

Thursday—Ohio vs. John Tubbs.

Friday—Marion Sampson vs. James A. Sampson.

PROBATE MATTERS

Recommendations of Court Regarding Two Lisbon Estates.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Letters of administration have been granted to W. S. Potts, in the estate of J. T. McKee, late of Lisbon.

An order has been issued to John Frazer, administrator of Ann Frazier, permitting him to sell the real property of the estate in Lisbon.

PURELY ACCIDENTAL

Such Is Now the Belief Regarding the Shooting of Paul Johnson.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Paul Johnson, who was shot at Leetonia Thursday night, is still living. Dr. House, a Cleveland surgeon, has been called in consultation with the local physicians.

The injured boy rested fairly well last night. He has taken no food since the accident.

It is now generally thought that the story of the shooting told by the boys is correct and that the affair was purely accidental.

CRAZED BY LIQUOR

Officers Arrest a Stranger Who Is Suffering From Delirium Tremens.

J. C. Hoffman, a stranger, was arrested shortly before noon today in a Broadway saloon by Patrolmen Woods and Bryan. He was suffering from a serious attack of "snakes" and when placed behind the bars raved like a madman.

His condition grew worse and Dr. Ogden was called. For a time it was feared he was dying, but he finally rallied and late this afternoon was resting easy.

Horse Badly Hurt.

A horse owned by Liveryman Rayl was badly injured on Second street this morning. A team was tied to a post, when one of the animals became frightened and pushed the other against the post, causing it to become impaled. It took several men to extricate the horse. A long gash was cut in its flesh.

INSTRUCTIVE TALK

ON Y. M. C. A. EDUCATIONAL WORK AND ITS NEED.

George B. Hodge Presents Some Startling Statistics Which Should Awaken Workers.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. had its monthly meeting last evening. On account of the visit of Mr. Geo. B. Hodge, of New York, and Assistant State Secretary Lardis, lunch was served in the parlor, the Ladies' Auxiliary assisting.

Mr. Hodge, who is one of the secretaries of the International Committee of the association, and in charge of the educational work, spoke most entertainingly for an hour using charts to illustrate his talks. The audience was a most appreciative one.

It is unfortunate when a man of Mr. Hodge's calibre visits East Liverpool more people could hear him. His comparative statements and charts showing the growth of the educational work were amazing. He said there are 100,000 men in the country capable of holding a $1 job while there is one prepared to fill a $20 a day position.

Mr. Hodge's visit should help materially the educational work of the local association.

But Before He Could Recover the Spoils an Officer Arrived.

THIEF DETECTED IN THE ACT

A Small Boy Was in the Store at the Time and Claims He Saw Stillwell Pick Up the Goods—Said to Be Hiding in Chester.

The East Liverpool police are looking for William Stillwell, a well known young man, who is alleged to have attempted a bold theft yesterday afternoon. He is said to be at present in hiding at Chester.

According to the story told a reporter by an officer this morning, Stillwell went into Erlanger's clothing store soon after the dinner hour yesterday and made known his intention of purchasing a pair of trousers. A clerk took him to the rear of the store and took down from a shelf several different styles, which Stillwell inspected.

Picking out a pair which he said suited him in color and make, he asked the clerk if he could go into a back room and try on the trousers. He was allowed to do so and while at the rear of the store the clerk went again to the front. Watching his chance, Stillwell, it is alleged, slipped out from the back room and made his way to a counter on which was stacked a large stock of suits. Picking up two of them he went to a window at the rear of the store and threw the goods on the outside.

A small boy, who happened to be in the store at the time, and who was not observed by Stillwell, claims to have seen the young man pick up the clothing, but did not at that moment make the fact known. Stillwell purchased the pantaloons and took his departure. Then it that the boy told what he had seen. The clerk went to the rear window and on the ground directly underneath saw the suits.

The matter was immediately communicated to Mr. Erlanger, who, in turn, telephoned to the city hall for an officer. Policeman Dawson was made familiar with the circumstances of the case. The clothing was picked up and a bundle of worthless cloth placed where the suits had been thrown.

Officer Dayson secreted himself at the rear of the store, where he could quickly lay his hands on the guilty party. He remained in waiting until nightfall, but neither Stillwell nor any one else came to claim the spoils. It was learned last evening that Stillwell was in Chester. It is believed he learned in some manner that his attempt to make off with the clothing had been discovered and in order to avoid arrest, went across the river.

A motorman on Southside street car who carried Stillwell over to Chester says that the young man asked him to inquire in this city whether or not the police were after him. The police say there is no question as to Stillwell's guilt and he will be locked up on sight.

It is said the young man got into a similar difficulty at Rochester not long ago and served a jail sentence. He has been playing base ball all of this summer and took part in several games on the local grounds.

TROUBLE THREATENED

Over Discharge of Lisbon Strikers. Shaffer May Call All Hands Out.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—The action of the American Tin Plate company in discharging Reese Watkins and three other employees of the Lisbon plant for their course during the recent strike appears likely to lead to serious complications. It is reported here that President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, has said that if the men are not taken back he will call all hands out. It is also said to be exceedingly doubtful if they would obey.

Vice President John H. Chappell will be in Lisbon today to look after the cases of the discharged men and a meeting of the association will be held this evening.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1901.

CITY COUNCIL WILL BE ASKED TO ERECT GARBAGE FURNACE

Board of Health Adopted a Resolution to That Effect.

NEW PLANT WILL COST $12,000

Robert Bursner, Manager of the Sanitary Reduction Company, Made a Proposition Which Was Ignored. Other Business Transacted.

Once again is the cumbersome and exasperating garbage question upon the shoulders of the city council for settlement. This was the decision reached by the board of health at the meeting held last night, and when the solons get an official notification of the action taken by the board there will doubtless be a wall of anguish arise from all sides.

In accordance with the instructions of the board, Clerk Herbert will present a resolution at the next meeting of council recommending that a $12,000 garbage furnace be built in East Liverpool. This conclusion was reached by the health board after hearing the report of Health Officer Ogden and Sanitary Officer Burgess, who inspected the furnace at Youngstown a few days since, a description of which has been given in the News Review.

Dr. Ogden declared the furnace, which is one of the Dixon make, to be a thorough success in every particular and Mr. Burgess corroborated the doctor's statement. Both gentlemen spoke assuringly concerning the absence of bad odors and claimed positively that no complaints had ever been registered by the Youngstown citizens. The plant complete cost $12,300, but Dr. Ogden said that the expense of maintaining it was very small.

Previous to talking over the furnace matter Mayor Davidson spoke concerning the garbage dump in the West End. He stated that he had made a thorough inspection of the ground and believed it was as cleanly kept as is possible to keep it. He agreed with others of the board, however, that a furnace was needed. Mr. Nellis said he was not favorably impressed with the present method of disposing of the offal and Mr. Burgess made known in unmistakable terms that he wasn't, either.

He stated that the refuse could be burned at less expense and in a more satisfactory manner, and he thought that immediate action to that effect should be taken.

Concerning the Youngstown furnace it was stated to the board that garbage alone was cremated, the night soil being buried. Dr. Ogden stated that the man in charge of the furnace claimed that it would not burn night soil and that none had ever been built that would successfully do so. At this juncture Robert Bursner, manager of the East Liverpool Sanitary Reduction company, addressed the board. He stated that the furnace in this city, recently abolished, would burn garbage alone as successfully as the one at Youngstown. Mr. Bursner further said the only trouble that had ever been experienced at the local furnace was because of night soil, and said it was the odor arising therefrom that had caused the complaints that led up to its abolishment.

In conclusion Mr. Bursner stated that his company was ready to submit a proposition to the board for the cremation of garbage alone, provided his furnace was put into commission again. He gave the assurance that the plant would be kept free from unnecessary stench and said that if any complaint was made he would be willing to give up his contract at any time.

Benjamin Haines expressed himself in terms unfavorable to the local furnace and thought a new one should be erected. Mr. Nellis coincided with Mr. Haines, and on motion the board decided to recommend to council that a Dixon plant be established here. Clerk Herbert was instructed to draw up a resolution to that effect, to be submitted to council at its next meeting.

Health Officer Ogden's report for the month of September was submitted and is as follows: Births, 27; deaths, 9. Causes of death: Spinal meningitis, 1; convulsions, 1; pneumonia, 2; cancer, 1; heart disease, 1; merasmus, 1; chronic diarrhoea, 1; diphtheria, 2.

Mayor, Davidson, Drs. Ogden, Mowen, Birkett and Norris and Messrs. Haines and Nellis were present at the meeting.

The resolution adopted by the board of health at last night's meeting recommending to council the establishment of a $12,000 garbage plant, will in all possibility meet with disfavor by the latter body. Information gleaned from an interview with several of the solons today warrants the statement that the proposition to erect another garbage plant at the present, at least, will be turned down without consideration.

It is not disputed that a furnace is needed, but it is the $12,000 that will cause the solons to balk. One of the gentlemen stated that he thought the present furnace would answer all purposes for garbage alone and that he would strongly oppose the expenditure of a single penny for another.

Others said that they had been told by different members of the board of health that the present furnace was as good as any other for garbage purposes only, and declared they would not act on the board's resolution until the local plant had been given another trial.

Sanitary Officer Burgess says he is satisfied that with the night soil eliminated the Sanitary Reduction company's plant will do just as good service as any other ever built. He says that garbage can be burned without the offensive odor that was formerly complained of, and it is likely that council will ask his opinion of the matter at its next meeting.

His condition grew worse and Dr. Ogden was called. For a time it was feared he was dying, but he finally rallied and late this afternoon was resting easy.

Horse Badly Hurt.

A horse owned by Liveryman Rayl was badly injured on Second street this morning. A team was tied to a post, when one of the animals became frightened and pushed the other against the post, causing it to become impaled. It took several men to extricate the horse. A long gash was cut in its flesh.

INSTRUCTIVE TALK

ON Y. M. C. A. EDUCATIONAL WORK AND ITS NEED.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. had its monthly meeting last evening. On account of the visit of Mr. Geo. B. Hodge, of New York, and Assistant State Secretary Lardis, lunch was served in the parlor, the Ladies' Auxiliary assisting.

Mr. Hodge, who is one of the secretaries of the International Committee of the association, and in charge of the educational work, spoke most entertainingly for an hour using charts to illustrate his talks. The audience was a most appreciative one.

It is unfortunate when a man of Mr. Hodge's calibre visits East Liverpool more people could hear him. His comparative statements and charts showing the growth of the educational work were amazing. He said there are 100,000 men in the country capable of holding a $1 job while there is one prepared to fill a $20 a day position.

Mr. Hodge's visit should help materially the educational work of the local association.

William Stillwell Is Alleged to Have Been the Guilty Party.

THREW CLOTHING OUT WINDOW

THIEF DETECTED IN THE ACT

A Small Boy Was in the Store at the Time And Claims He Saw Stillwell Pick Up the Goods—Said to Be Hiding in Chester.

The East Liverpool police are looking for William Stillwell, a well known young man, who is alleged to have attempted a bold theft yesterday afternoon. He is said to be at present in hiding at Chester.

According to the story told a reporter by an officer this morning, Stillwell went into Erlanger's clothing store soon after the dinner hour yesterday and made known his intention of purchasing a pair of trousers. A clerk took him to the rear of the store and took down from a shelf several different styles, which Stillwell inspected.

Picking out a pair which he said suited him in color and make, he asked the clerk if he could go into a back room and try on the trousers. He was allowed to do so and while at the rear of the store the clerk went again to the front. Watching his chance, Stillwell, it is alleged, slipped out from the back room and made his way to a counter on which was stacked a large stock of suits. Picking up two of them he went to a window at the rear of the store and threw the goods out the outside.

A small boy, who happened to be in the store at the time, and who was not observed by Stillwell, claims to have seen the young man pick up the clothing, but did not at that moment make the fact known. Stillwell purchased the pantaloons and took his departure. Then it that the boy told what he had seen. The clerk went to the rear window and on the ground directly underneath saw the suits.

The matter was immediately communicated to Mr. Erlanger, who, in turn, telephoned to the city hall for an officer. Policeman Dawson was made familiar with the circumstances of the case. The clothing was picked up and a bundle of worthless cloth placed where the suits had been thrown.

Officer Dawson secreted himself at the rear of the store, where he could quickly lay his hands on the guilty party. He remained in waiting until nightfall, but neither Stillwell nor any one else came to claim the spoils. It was learned last evening that Stillwell was in Chester. It is believed he learned in some manner that his attempt to make off with the clothing had been discovered and in order to avoid arrest, went across the river.

A motorman on Southside street car who carried Stillwell over to Chester says that the young man asked him to inquire in this city whether or not the police were after him. The police say there is no question as to Stillwell's guilt and he will be locked up on sight.

It is said the young man got into a similar difficulty at Rochester not long ago and served a jail sentence. He has been playing base ball all of this summer and took part in several games on the local grounds.

TROUBLE THREATENED

Over Discharge of Lisbon Strikers. Shaffer May Call All Hands Out.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—The action of the American Tin Plate company in discharging Reese Watkins and three other employees of the Lisbon plant for their course during the recent strike appears likely to lead to serious complications. It is reported here that President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, has said that if the men are not taken back he will call all hands out. It is also said to be exceedingly doubtful if they would obey.

Vice President John H. Chappell will be in Lisbon today to look after the cases of the discharged men and a meeting of the association will be held this evening.

MAY GO TO COURT

CLAIM THAT HORSES WERE OVER-DRIVEN DISPUTED.

Liveryman John Forbes Demands the Purchase of His Team For $200.

Mrs. George Goddard yesterday hired a rig from John Forbes, the liveryman. The outfit was hired for the purpose of taking the woman's son, George Trover, to Lisbon, where he had been indicted by the grand jury for felonious assault on Agnes Potts. Upon their return, it seems, the horses became ill, and Mr. Forbes claims they were overdriven. Securing the services of Constable Miller, he sent him to the Goddard home to inform them about the matter and tell them they would have to purchase the team for $200. This they refused to do, but offered to pay for the damage done to the team, or buy it at a reasonable price. Mr. Forbes insisted they would have to pay $200.

Mrs. Goddard appeared at the office of Squire Carman this morning and talked the matter over, stating that the horses had not been overdriven, as it took them four hours to drive to Lisbon and the same time for the return trip. The matter will probably be aired in court.

Hearing Postponed.

W. M. Jackson, who was sued in the court of Justice Carman by J. W. Anthony, for the possession of a tool chest and tools, appeared at the appointed time, but the plaintiff failed to put in an appearance, he being represented by Attorney H. E. Grosshans. After talking the matter over it was decided to carry the case over until next Saturday at 9 o'clock, when, if the plaintiff fails to appear, the case will be dismissed.

Positive Proof From East Liverpool Can't Be Brushed Lightly Aside.

The reader is forced to acknowledge that convincing proof in his own city is preeminently ahead of endorsements from everywhere else in our republic. Read this.

Mr. W. P. Cochran, of Mulberry street, East End, says: "At intervals for thirty years I had serious kidney and bladder trouble. The agony I went through can hardly be described. Many nights I rolled from one side to another trying to find an easy position for my back. I could not move without having sharp twinges of pain, and I was also troubled with urinary difficulty, the secretions being very irregular, and at times very distressing. I ran down so that I could hardly help myself. Doctors treated me. I took a power of stuff and I had given up all hope of being cured when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a never failing remedy. I got a box at W. & W. pharmacy and after taking half of it I could see some improvement. I continued and the treatment did me more good than anything I ever used."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE BETTER BOAT,

And Deserved to Win, Declared
Lipton, Speaking of Victorious Columbia.

THE CUP STAYS IN AMERICA.

Shamrock II Crossed Finish Line
First, but, Giving Columbia the
Time Allowance, the Yankee Boat
Was Awarded the Race.

New York, Oct. 5.—With victory flags flowing from her towering mast heads and the ends of her spreaders in honor of the concluding triumph in the cup races of 1901, the gallant sloop Columbia returned to her anchorage last night under the escort of the entire excursion fleet. She yesterday completed her defense of the honored trophy in another stirring race with Shamrock II over a leeward and windward race of 30 miles, crossing the finish line two seconds behind her antagonist, but winning on the time allowance conceded by Lipton's boat by 41 seconds.

For the second time she has now successfully foiled the attempt of the Irish knight to wrest from our possession the cup that means the yachting supremacy of the world. And plucky Sir Thomas Lipton, standing on the bridge of the Erin, led his guests in three hearty huzzahs for the successful defender. "She is the better boat," he said, "and she deserves to be cheered."

Closest Ever Sailed For Cup.

The series of races just closed will always be memorable as the closest ever sailed for the cup, and Sir Thomas, although defeated, will go home with the satisfaction of knowing that his golden yacht is the ablest foreign boat that ever crossed the western ocean. During both series of races not an untoward incident has occurred, and Sir Thomas will return to England by far the most popular of all the foreigners who have challenged the America's trophy.

While taking his defeat gamely, Sir Thomas Lipton made no attempt to conceal his honest disappointment when he talked about the race last night on the Erin. "I am very disappointed," he said. "I can't hide that. I thought within 15 minutes of the finish we had won. I was sure as my life we had won. When I looked around the situation was changed and we had lost. It was a hard blow to be so near winning and then to lose. I should like to have got one race, just by way of consolation. It is a very hard thing to be beaten by a breath—by a few beats of the pulse. It was a severe strain on me; I have worked so hard for many months now, and I am glad it is over. To have won would have been a joy greater than today's disappointment. Columbia's win today was fair and square and honorable. There is nothing to protest if I wanted to protest. In fact, I have a feeling in my heart that if there had been any error in judgment at all it would have been in my favor. If there had been any possibility of choice in the matter I believe the New York Yacht club would have given the race. Sometimes a man may have a better boat, but even having it, must have a wee bit of luck to win. I am very grieved, indeed; very grieved, and," he added, "I should like to have won one race."

Hardly had the Erin's anchors touched bottom when a launch from the yacht Corsair came alongside, bearing the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club. Sir Thomas met them at the head of the gang way, and as he shook hands with them individually he said:

"Gentlemen, it was a fair beat. I want to say again that you have treated me with the utmost fairness and courtesy. You have met every wish of mine, and from my heart I thank you."

A Compliment to Lipton.

Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard, chairman of the New York Yacht club regatta committee, replied:

"Sir Thomas, we have never had a truer sportsman to deal with."

Many of Sir Thomas' guests on board the Erin crowded around to express their sympathy at his defeat and assured him of the high place he had won in the hearts of all Americans. "When a man wins a heart he has won more than a cup," said one of them. There were tears in the Irish baronet's eyes when he thanked them for their kind words. Said he: "The words you have spoken touch me far more than my defeat today. I tried to win the cup and I have done my best. But, better than all that, I have the good wishes of this country."

When asked about his plans for the future, Sir Thomas said: "It is too early to talk about my plans. About the Shamrock, I cannot decide yet what I shall do, and as to challenging again, it is too soon to think about it."

E. D. Morgan, the manager of the Columbia, said:

MISSIONARY WORK

Under Consideration by the Protestant Episcopal Convention at Frisco.

PITTSBURG ONE OF CANDIDATES

For Next Triennial Meeting—On Motion of Morgan, Committee Appoint-
of St. Andrew to Have Communion.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Deliberations of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America were devoted yesterday mainly to the missionary field and were of much interest. In joint session a resolution was adopted to adjourn the convention sine die Thursday, Oct. 17. Petitions from representative cities anxious to secure the next triennial meeting were presented in behalf of Pittsburgh, Boston, Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans. No action was taken, but on motion of J. Pierpont Morgan a committee was appointed to decide where the next convention shall be held. The house of bishops decided to consider the constitution as soon as it shall be acted upon by the house of deputies. The house of deputies will take up the matter of marginal readings, which Thursday was passed on by the bishops, as soon as it shall finish the constitution, which it is now considering. The proposed canon on marriage and divorce will be considered next.

When the time came for calling to order the board of missions there was scarcely standing room in the church. The deputies remained standing while the bishops marched down the center aisle and were given seats of honor.

During the day services were held in St. Luke's church by the Daughters of the King, and last night at St. Stephen's church the Brotherhood of St. Andrew had a quiet hour and preparation for holy communion.

THE BETTER BOAT.

And Deserved to Win, Declared
torious Columbia.

THE CUP STAYS IN AMERICA.

Was Awarded the Race.

New York, Oct. 5.—With victory flags flowing from her towering mast heads and the ends of her spreaders in honor of the concluding triumph in the cup races of 1901, the gallant sloop Columbia returned to her anchorage last night under the escort of the entire excursion fleet. She yesterday completed her defense of the honored trophy in another stirring race with Shamrock II over a leeward and windward race of 30 miles, crossing the finish line two seconds behind her antagonist, but winning on the time allowance conceded by Lipton's boat by 41 seconds.

For the second time she has now successfully foiled the attempt of the Irish knight to wrest from our possession the cup that means the yachting supremacy of the world. And plucky Sir Thomas Lipton, standing on the bridge of the Erin, led his guests in three hearty huzzahs for the successful defender. "She is the better boat," he said, "and she deserves to be cheered."

Closest Ever Sailed For Cup.

The series of races just closed will always be memorable as the closest ever sailed for the cup, and Sir Thomas, although defeated, will go home with the satisfaction of knowing that his golden yacht is the ablest foreign boat that ever crossed the western ocean. During both series of races not an untoward incident has occurred, and Sir Thomas will return to England by far the most popular of all the foreigners who have challenged the America's trophy.

A safe yet powerful remedy for all diseases of the blood, nerves, stomach, liver and kidneys, is

Wright's Celery Tea

THE WRIGHT MEDICAL CO., Columbus, O.

While taking his defeat gamely, Sir Thomas Lipton made no attempt to conceal his honest disappointment when he talked about the race last night on the Erin. "I am very disappointed," he said. "I can't hide that. I thought within 15 minutes of the finish we had won. I was sure as my life we had won. When I looked around the situation was changed and we had lost. It was a hard blow to be so near winning and then to lose. I should like to have got one race, just by way of consolation. It is a very hard thing to be beaten by a breath—by a few beats of the pulse. It was a severe strain on me; I have worked so hard for many months now, and I am glad it is over. To have won would have been a joy greater than today's disappointment. Columbia's win today was fair and square and honorable. There is nothing to protest if I wanted to protest. In fact, I have a feeling in my heart that if there had been any error in judgment at all it would have been in my favor. If there had been any possibility of choice in the matter I believe the New York Yacht club would have given the race. Sometimes a man may have a better boat, but even having it, must have a wee bit of luck to win. I am very grieved, indeed; very grieved, and," he added, "I should like to have won one race."

Hardly had the Erin's anchors touched bottom when a launch from the yacht Corsair came alongside, bearing the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club. Sir Thomas met them at the head of the gang way, and as he shook hands with them individually he said:

A Compliment to Lipton.

Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard, chairman of the New York Yacht club regatta committee, replied:

Many of Sir Thomas' guests on board the Erin crowded around to express their sympathy at his defeat and assured him of the high place he had won in the hearts of all Americans. "When a man wins a heart he has won more than a cup," said one of them. There were tears in the Irish baronet's eyes when he thanked them for their kind words. Said he:

"The words you have spoken touch me far more than my defeat today. I tried to win the cup and I have done my best. But, better than all that, I have the good wishes of this country."

When asked about his plans for the future, Sir Thomas said:

"It is too early to talk about my plans. About the Shamrock, I cannot decide yet what I shall do, and as to challenging again, it is too soon to think about it."

E. D. Morgan, the manager of the Columbia, said:

For Next Triennial Meeting—On Mo-

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Deliberations of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America were devoted yesterday mainly to the missionary field and were of much interest. In joint session a resolution was adopted to adjourn the convention sine die Thursday, Oct. 17. Petitions from representative cities anxious to secure the next triennial meeting were presented in behalf of Pittsburg, Boston, Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans. No action was taken, but on motion of J. Pierpont Morgan a committee was appointed to decide where the next convention shall be held. The house of bishops decided to consider the constitution as soon as it shall be acted upon by the house of deputies. The house of deputies will take up the matter of marginal readings, which Thursday was passed on by the bishops, as soon as it shall finish the constitution, which it is now considering. The proposed canon on marriage and divorce will be considered next.

When the time came for calling to order the board of missions there was scarcely standing room in the church. The deputies remained standing while the bishops marched down the center aisle and were given seats of honor.

During the day services were held in St. Luke's church by the Daughters of the King, and last night at St. Stephen's church the Brotherhood of St. Andrew had a quiet hour and preparation for holy communion.

AN UNJUST ATTACK.

Democrats and those who are assisting the Democrats in their state campaign find it a difficult task to discover anything in the public record of Governor Nash which they can assail or to which they can take exceptions. But these professional fault-finders feel that it is incumbent upon them to discover alleged faults, even when they are honestly aware that no grievance or ground of complaint exists. Down in Cincinnati they have succeeded in getting an organization styling itself the Veterans' Protective League of Hamilton county to issue a circular charging the governor with having discriminated against old soldiers in making appointments to public office.

The absurdity and absolute untruth-fulness of the charge is apparent to any fair-minded person who will take the trouble to look over the list of appointments made by the governor.
 The executive has disturbed no old soldiers who were in office, but has constantly added to the number as vacancies occurred. Serving in various state departments under him today there are more than 250 veterans of the civil war, soldiers of the Spanish war and Sons of Veterans. In the adjutant general's department there is but one of the officers and clerks who is not a veteran of the civil war or the Spanish war.

But the disgruntled ones must have campaign material, and they do not hesitate to manufacture it. The basis for the Cincinnati complaint is very slight indeed. It will be noted that it is made by the Veterans' Protective League. John Barnes is the president of that league. John Barnes is the man, who, backed by eight others, suggested appointments which the governor did not see fit to make. This is the extent of the governor's offending.

In April, 1900, Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm were reappointed as police commissioners of the city of Cincinnati. The appointments were made after careful investigation by the governor of the needs and condition of the police service. Their former administration had been so successful that the demand that they be continued in office was almost universal in Cincinnati. General Andrew Hickenlooper and other prominent veterans, as well as leading citizens by the score, urged the governor, for the good of the service and of the city, to make the appointments which he did make.
 It is shown that old soldiers have fared far better under these officials than under any previous administration of the Cincinnati police department.

Governor Nash has the courage of his convictions and discharges his duty fearlessly. When convinced that a certain course is right, he follows it.
 He deserves to be honored and not censured for the enemies he has made.
 The hostility to him of the prize-fighting element is a case in point and a tribute to his fitness for the executive chair. And the unjust and unreasonable attack made by a handful of dissatisfied place-seekers in Cincinnati will serve only to strengthen public confidence in him.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION.

The action of the board of health in recommending that the city purchase and put in operation a $12,000 garbage furnace falls very far short of settling a question that needs to be settled promptly. It is, of course, highly desirable that the city should own its own garbage plant. But we greatly doubt if council will deem it wise, in the present condition of the city's finances, to make the appropriation which will be necessary. There is a garbage plant in this city, which, it is claimed, can do satisfactorily all the work that will be required or expected of the proposed $12,000 concern. Would it not be well to give it another trial and to defer the proposed purchase until some of the city's pressing financial obligations have been satisfied?

It is an old and not remarkably valuable piece of silverware. Still it is prized for old associations' sake and
 a whole lot of people are glad it is to remain in America.

Sir Thomas Lipton is a game sport and a gentleman. But more than that is needed to win an international yacht

The yachting experts are not the only persons who are shouting: "I

THE SIPE SHOW

Lilliputian Circus Parade Attracts All the Little Ones.

Ponies galore of the tiniest strain,
 dogs of every breed, color and disposition, a trained baby elephant and a perfect stream of tiny wagons in gilt
 and silver, a miniature reproduction
 of the "greatest show on earth," and all others that pretend to be great,
 bands of music, the musicians gaily
 clad and vigorous in their intent, glass enclosed cages in which were trained animals, held the attention of the people of this city this morning when the Sipe educated animal and lilliputian show paraded.

Children by hundreds watched the parade and followed it. The show made a fine appearance on the street.
 It is at the West End park this afternoon and evening.

AT THE THEATER

It is the intention of Manager
 Chas. H. Yale to considerably enlarge and increase his theatrical interests during the coming year, and outside of the tour of his "Everlasting Devil's Auction," which like Tennyson's
 "Brook," seems destined to "go on forever" and possibly a couple of days after that, and, in conjunction with Sidney R. Ellis, his later spectacle,
 "The Evil Eye," and still newer enterprise that clever German comedian, Al H. Wilson, in "The Watch on the Rhine." To also present during the middle of the season now opening a big production of comic opera which will employ over 100 people in the cast, and in the spring a new panto-mimic and ballet spectacle on the order of "The Everlasting Devil's Auction."

A Carnival of Laughter.

No truer word was ever spoken than
 "Laugh and the world laughs with you." The author of that successful comedy, "Uncle Hex," had this axiom
 in mind when his busy brain was reeling out line after line of the wonderful scenes of this production. Sensation, realism, pathos and mechanical effects all have their place throughout
 the piece, but comedy reigns supreme.
 A laugh for every two minutes is a good average, and when at the end of the performance the auditor balances up his mirth account he finds a heavy balance in favor of King Carnival.
 "Uncle Hex" will be seen at the Grand opera house Tuesday, Oct. 8. Prices as usual, 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Watch for the beautiful street parade.

 Attended To.

Several weeks ago a petition was presented to council by the residents of Lisbon street, asking that a walk of some sort be placed along the road
 from a point where the paving stops to the top of the hill. The petition was largely signed, and included the names of all the taxpayers in that section, but to the present nothing has been done by the street committee, to whom it was referred.

The improvement is badly needed,
 and residents who are compelled to travel the thoroughfare in all kinds of weather would like to see the work completed before the bad weather sets in. But little has been done for the property owners of the vicinity since
 the corporate limits were extended to include the Pleasant Heights district,
 and they are of the opinion that something should be done with their re-

Fell on the Street, Receiving Painful Injuries.

Samuel, the 11-year-old son of James Preston, residing on Eighth street,
 was seriously injured on Sixth street this morning. While the parade of the Sipe animal show was passing young Preston undertook to cross between the wagons. He tripped upon the cover of a man hole and fell violently.

Bystanders hastened to his assistance and he was carried to the steps of a building near at hand. The boy was almost unconscious when picked up, his head having come in contact with the pavement. He was later able to walk to his home.

At the conclusion of the session held
 last night by the board of health, Dr.
 C. B. Ogden invited the members of the board to an uptown restaurant, where they were treated to an oyster stew. Sanitary Officer Burgess, Robert Burner and two reporters also accepted Dr. Ogden's hospitality and joined the health board at the festal board.

Fine cigars were also passed around
 by the doctor.

NO NEW WINTER CARS

Prospect That Open Street Cars Will
 Time.

There is a prospect that some summer cars will run on the East Liverpool railway for some time. The company has not secured any new winter cars. The old cars are being overhauled and repainted. Four more winter cars will be put on next Monday.
 Two old cars have been abandoned
 and will be converted into one.

POTTERY NEWS

 fied with Lisbon's new pottery manag-ment, has moved his family to that city and will reside there permanently.

Work is about to be commenced upon a switch from the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western railroad to the new pottery at Lisbon.

F. F. Debolt has returned from an eastern trip in the interests of the French China company.

The kiln at the Electrical Porcelain works in the East End was completed narrowly escaped being crushed to death. One of his hands was badly mangled.

KIPLING SCORES ARMY REFORM.

"Spectator" Suggests Kitchener Be Recalled and Lord Roberts Again
 Sent to South Africa.

London, Oct. 5.—"In spite of the pledges of the government the whole army machine is to be hauled back
 as soon as it may be to the old ruts
 of impotence, pretense and collapse," writes Rudyard Kipling in a striking letter to The Spectator, upon the appointment of Sir Redvers Buller and Sir Evelyn Wood to command army corps.

This pungent sentence voices the national feeling that has prevailed this week without regard to party politics.

The Spectator, although among the most cautious of the government's supporters, comes out boldly, not only with a declaration that the appointments of Generals Buller and Wood
 are absurd, but also with a demand that Lord Kitchener be recalled. This demand is nicely but unmistakably worded.

It suggests that Lord Roberts
 should go back for six months, Lord Kitchener either relieving him in London or acting again as his chief of staff in South Africa.

AN UNJUST ATTACK.
Democrats and those who are as-
campaign find it a difficult task to
discover anything in the public record
of Governor Nash which they can as-
sail or to which they can take exceptions. But these professional fault-
finders feel that it is incumbent upon
them to discover alleged faults, even
when they are honestly aware that
no grievance or ground of complaint
succeeded in getting an organization
styling itself the Veterans' Protective
circular charging the governor with
having discriminated against old soldiers in making appointments to public office.

The absurdity and absolute untruth-
fulness of the charge is apparent to
the trouble to look over the list of appointments made by the governor.
The executive has disturbed no old
soldiers who were in office, but has
constantly added to the number as va-
state departments under him today
there are more than 250 veterans of the civil war, soldiers of the Spanish
war and Sons of Veterans. In the adjutant general's department there
is but one of the officers and clerks
who is not a veteran of the civil war
or the Spanish war.

But the disgruntled ones must have
campaign material, and they do not
for the Cincinnati complaint is very
it is made by the Veterans' Protective League. John Barnes is the president of that league. John Barnes is the man, who, lacking by eight others, suggested appointments which the governor did not see fit to make. This is

In April, 1900, Messrs. Henshaw and Burgheim were reappointed as police commissioners of the city of Cincinnati. The appointments were made after careful investigation by the governor of the needs and condition of
the police service. Their former administration had been so successful
that the demand that they be contin-
Cincinnati. General Andrew Hickenlooper and other prominent veterans,
score, urged the governor, for the good
of the service and of the city, to make
the appointments which he did make.
It is shown that old soldiers have
fared far better under these officials
than under any previous administra-
ment.

Governor Nash has the courage of
his convictions and discharges his duty
fearlessly. When convinced that a certain course is right, he follows it.
He deserves to be honored and not
censured for the enemies he has made.

tribute to his fitness for the executive
chair. And the unjust and unreasonable attack made by a handful of dissatisfied place-seekers in Cincinnati
confidence in him.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION.

The action of the board of health
chase and put in operation a $12,000
garbage furnace falls very far short
of settling a question that needs to be settled promptly. It is, of course,
own its own garbage plant. But we
city's finances, to make the appropriation which will be necessary. There is a garbage plant in this city, which, it is claimed, can do satisfactorily all
the work that will be required or expected of the proposed $12,000 concern. Would it not be well to give it another trial and to defer the proposed purchase until some of the city's pressing financial obligations have
been satisfied?

It is an old and not remarkably val-
a whole lot of people are glad it is to remain in America.

Sir Thomas Lipton is a game sport
and a gentleman. But more than that

THE SIPE SHOW

Lilliputian Circus Parade Attracts All
the Little Ones.

Ponies galore of the tiniest strain,
dogs of every breed, color and disposition, a trained baby elephant and
a perfect stream of tiny wagons in gilt
and silver, a miniature reproduction
of the "greatest show on earth," and
all others that pretend to be great,
bands of music, the musicians gaily
clad and vigorous in their intent,
trained animals, held the attention of
when the Sipe educated animal and
lilliputian show paraded.

Children by hundreds watched the
parade and followed it. The show
made a fine appearance on the street.
It is at the West End park this afternoon and evening.

AT THE THEATER

It is the intention of Manager
Chas. H. Yale to considerably enlarge
and increase his theatrical interests
during the coming year, and outside of the tour of his "Everlasting Devil's
"Brook," seems destined to "go on forever" and possibly a couple of days
after that, and, in conjunction with Sidney R. Ellis, his later spectacle,
"The Evil Eye," and still newer enter-
Al H. Wilson, in "The Watch on the
will employ over 100 people in the cast, and in the spring a new pantomimic and ballet spectacle on the order of "The Everlasting Devil's Auction."

A Carnival of Laughter.

No truer word was ever spoken than
"Laugh and the world laughs with
comedy, "Uncle Hex," had this axiom
in mind when his busy brain was reeling out line after line of the wonderful scenes of this production. Sensation, realism, pathos and mechanical
effects all have their place throughout
the piece, but comedy reigns supreme.
good average, and when at the end of
up his mirth account he finds a heavy
balance in favor of King Carnival.
"Uncle Hex" will be seen at the Grand opera house Tuesday, Oct. 8. Prices
as usual, 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Watch for the beautiful street parade.

West Virginia Game Laws.

Hunters who contemplate excusions into West Virginia in search of game will be interested in knowing that in that state it is lawful to shoot deer from Oct. 15 to Dec. 15; wild turkey from Sept. 15 to Jan. 1; ruffed grouse, pheasants and prairie chicken, Oct. 15 to Dec. 15; quail from Nov.
20; ducks and geese from Oct. 1 to April 1; woodcock from July 15 to Nov.
1, and snipe from March 1 to July 1. A person is not allowed to kill more than twelve quails in one day.

Attended To.

Several weeks ago a petition was
of Lisbon street, asking that a walk of
some sort be placed along the road
from a point where the paving stops
was largely signed, and included the names of all the taxpayers in that sec-
whom it was referred.

The improvement is badly needed,
and residents who are compelled to
weather would like to see the work
completed before the bad weather sets
in. But little has been done for the
the corporate limits were extended to
include the Pleasant Heights district,
and they are of the opinion that something should be done with their re-

Fell on the Street, Receiving Painful
Injuries.

Samuel, the 11-year-old son of James Preston, residing on Eighth street,
was seriously injured on Sixth street
this morning. While the parade of the
Preston undertook to cross between
the wagons. He tripped upon the cover of a man hole and fell violently.

Bystanders hastened to his assistance and he was carried to the steps
of a building near at hand. The boy
was almost unconscious when picked
to walk to his home.

ATE OYSTERS

Dr. C. B. Ogden "Set 'Em Up" to the Members of the Board of Health.

At the conclusion of the session held
last night by the board of health, Dr.
C. B. Ogden invited the members of the board to an uptown restaurant,
where they were treated to an oyster
stew. Sanitary Officer Burgess, Robert Burns and two reporters also accepted Dr. Ogden's hospitality and joined the health board at the festal
board.

Fine cigars were also passed around
by the doctor.

NO NEW WINTER CARS

Prospect That Open Street Cars Will
Time.

There is a prospect that some summer cars will run on the East Liverpool railway for some time. The company has not secured any new winter
cars. The old cars are being overhauled and repainted. Four more winter cars will be put on next Monday.
Two old cars have been abandoned

A. G. Mason, prominently identified with Lisbon's new pottery management, has moved his family to that city and will reside there permanently.

Work is about to be commenced upon a switch from the Pittsburg, Lisbon and Western railroad to the new
pottery at Lisbon.

F. F. Debolt has returned from an

Workman Badly Hurt.

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Henry Hollinger, chief mechanic at the Lisbon tin mill, was caught by a heavy iron crane, while at work today, and narrowly escaped being crushed to death. One of his hands was badly mangled.

KIPLING SCORES ARMY REFORM.

"Spectator" Suggests Kitchener Be
Sent to South Africa.

London, Oct. 5.—"In spite of the
pledges of the government the whole
army machine is to be hauled back
of impotence, pretense and collapse,"
writes Rudyard Kipling in a striking
letter to The Spectator, upon the appointment of Sir Redvers Buller and Sir Evelyn Wood to command army
corps.

This pungent sentence voices the
national feeling that has prevailed
this week without regard to party politics.

The Spectator, although among the
most cautious of the government's
supporters, comes out boldly, not only
with a declaration that the appointments of Generals Buller and Wood
are absurd, but also with a demand
that Lord Kitchener be recalled. This demand is nicely but unmistakably
worded.

It suggests that Lord Roberts
should go back for six months, Lord Kitchener either relieving him in London or acting again as his chief of

TOWN BURNED, AT SCENE OF RE-CENT MASSACRE IN SAMAR.

Col. De Russy Sent Strong Company to Chastise Filipinos—Chaffee Sends Report.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The war department last night last night, received the following from General Chaffee, dated at Manila, giving further details of the disastrous attack on the Ninth regiment:

"From those who escaped following: Sept. 29, while at breakfast, 6:45 morning, company was attacked at signal ringing of convent bells, by about 450 bolomen, 200 from rear of quarters, 200 front, simultaneously attack officers' quarters.

"Company completely surprised, force attacking front gained possession arms. Fight ensued for them in which most men met death in mess room in rear. Enemy beaten off temporarily by about 25 men, who gained their arms.

"Sergeant Betron assumed command, endeavored collect men, leave in boats, re-attacked by enemy.

"Strength command, three officers, 72 men. Killed, three officers, 40 enlisted men; missing six; wounded, 13; present, 13. Party attacking officers in convent, entered through church, large numbers led by presidente. Probably 101 rifles with company, 26 saved, 15 of lost (rifles) bolts drawn, 25,000 ammunition lost; 95 prisoners outside guard joined in attack at signal. Boat of missing men capsized. Captain Bookmiller may pick up men. Lieutenant James P. Drouillard, Ninth infantry.

"Sept. 30.—Have returned Balangiga. Drouillard explains conditions correctly. Landed yesterday, inhabitants deserted town, firing one shot. Buried three officers, 29 men. Number bodies burned. Quarters buildings fired as we entered. Secured or destroyed most of rations. All ordnance gone.

"Insurgents secured 57 serviceable rifles, 28,000 cartridges, 48 men of Company C, Ninth infantry (and), one hospital corps man killed or missing, 25 men accounted for, found two in boat en route here. Buried dead, burned town, returned to Basey.

"Captain Bookmiller, "Ninth Infantry."

"De Russy has sent strong company to chastise savages if found—Hughes. "No other details. Names of killed to be determined by elimination of survivors as soon as possible. June muster roll probably latest evidence to be had. Chaffee."

De Russy is the colonel of the Eleventh regiment, stationed near the scene of the attack. The muster roll referred to already has been published.

GOODS OUT OF DOORS

Watched at Night By the Evicted Owner And Her Sister.

Some of the household property and small stock of dry goods belonging to Mrs. Maggie Clyde, who was ejected from her place of business on Main street Thursday, has been removed to neighboring buildings, while much of it is still lying in the street, she being unable to secure a house. She and a sister, Miss Marshall, have been watching the goods, remaining out of doors over night in the cold to see that none of them were disturbed.

Miss Marshall makes her home with George Carson, the man who owns the building and who had Miss Clyde evicted for non-payment of rent.

Mrs. Clyde has much sympathy in her unfortunate circumstances.

TOWN BURNED, AT SCENE OF RECENT MASSACRE IN SAMAR.

Col. De Russy Sent Strong Company to Chase Filipino—Chaffee Sends Report.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The war department last night last night, received the following from General Chaffee, dated at Manila, giving further details of the disastrous attack on the Ninth regiment:

"From those who escaped following: Sept. 29, while at breakfast, 6:45 morning, company was attacked at signal ringing of convent bells, by about 450 bolomen, 200 from rear of quarters, 200 front, simultaneously attack officers' quarters.

"Company completely surprised, force attacking front gained possession arms. Fight ensued for them in which most men met death in mess room in rear. Enemy beaten off temporarily by about 25 men, who gained their arms.

"Sergeant Betron assumed command, endeavored collect men, leave in boats, re-attacked by enemy.

"Strength command, three officers, 72 men. Killed, three officers, 40 enlisted men; missing six; wounded, 13; present, 13. Party attacking officers in convent, entered through church, large numbers led by presidente. Probably 101 rifles with company, 26 saved, 15 of lost (rifles) bolts drawn, 25,000 ammunition lost; 95 prisoners outside guard joined in attack at signal. Boat of missing men capsized. Captain Bookmiller may pick up men. Lieutenant James P. Drouillard, Ninth infantry.

"Sept. 20.—Have returned Balangiga. Drouillard explains conditions correctly. Landed yesterday, inhabitants deserted town, firing one shot. Buried three officers, 29 men. Number bodies burned. Quarters buildings fired as we entered. Secured or destroyed most of rations. All ordnance gone.

"Insurgents secured 57 serviceable rifles, 28,000 cartridges, 48 men of Company C, Ninth infantry (and), one hospital corps man killed or missing, 25 men accounted for, found two in boat en route here. Buried dead, burned town, returned to Basey. "Captain Bookmiller, "Ninth Infantry."

"De Russy has sent strong company to chase savages if found—Hughes. "No other details. Names of killed to be determined by elimination of survivors as soon as possible. June muster roll probably latest evidence to be had."

De Russy is the colonel of the Eleventh regiment, stationed near the scene of the attack. The muster roll referred to already has been published.

Neuralgia.

The Prayer of a Nerve for More Blood.

Neuralgia may attack any part of the body but most frequently occurs where the nerves are most abundant.

In the head.
In the face.
Sometimes the heart nerves seem to twist Twining rheumatic pains of the extremities.

Sharp and intense at times
In the intervals dull and heavy.
Neuralgia is the result of impoverished blood caused by impairment of the nerves—a lack of nerve force.

Liniments and all external applications can only give temporary relief. Permanent cure cannot possibly come until the nerve centers are thoroughly revitalized and reinvigorated by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. The beneficial effects of this great nerve restorative are felt thrilling through the nerve fibres as week by week and month by month the nerve force of the body is restored. Women afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex are frequently great sufferers from neuralgia. Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cures both these disorders by filling the nervous system with new vigor and life. 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. FRIEND OF SOLDIERS,

Hon. Geo. K. Nash, Republican Candidate For Governor.

HE REPLIES TO AN UNJUST ATTACK

Charges which would be serious, save that they lack the necessary element of truthfulness, are made against Governor George K. Nash in a circular purporting to come from the headquarters of the "Veterans' Protective League of Hamilton County, Ohio." The circular is signed by John Barnes, as president, and John K. Batchelor, secretary, of the league. The circular is an attack upon Governor Nash for having discriminated, it is alleged, against old soldiers in making appointments in the public service. He is specifically charged with bad faith and a violation of the provisions of what is known as the Clark law relating to the employment of soldiers in official positions; and the reappointment, in April, 1900, of Messrs. George Henshaw and Max Burghelm as police commissioners of the city of Cincinnati, is made the case in point.

It is a matter of history and fact that Governor Nash, instead of discriminating against the old soldiers, has, throughout his administration, favored them in the making of appointments whenever the good conduct of public affairs would permit. So far as the specific case of the appointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm, in Cincinnati, is concerned, the records not only clear Governor Nash from the charge of discriminating against the old soldiers, but show that he pursued the course plainly indicated by the demands of the public welfare.

A reporter asked Governor Nash for a history of the circumstances relating to the appointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm, believing that the facts should be made public in order to prevent any possible misunderstanding. The governor replied:

"John Barnes wrote to me in June, 1899, after I was nominated by the Republican party as a candidate for governor, and in that letter he called my attention to the Clark law and to the alleged finding of some court that said law was unconstitutional. It would not have affected my policy whether the law was unconstitutional or not. I believe in its provisions, which required that preference should be given in public employment to honorably discharged soldiers of the Civil war, everything else being equal; and I replied to Mr. Barnes saying this in substance. In the appointments which I have made to office I have kept this principle in mind, and have given preference to ex-soldiers in all cases where I felt that the public service would permit. Serving in the various state departments under my administration, there are more than 250 veterans of the civil war, soldiers of the Spanish war and Sons of Veterans. In the office of the adjutant general alone all save one of the officers and clerks are veterans of the Rebellion or soldiers of the war with Spain.

"In April, 1900, the terms of two police commissioners in Cincinnati—Mr. George Henshaw, a Democrat, and Mr. Max Burghelm, a Republican—expired. In 1886, a law of Ohio provided a police commission for Cincinnati consisting of two Democrats and two Republicans, to be appointed by the governor. Before taking action in April, 1900, I investigated and found that the police force organized under this board was very efficient, and many citizens of Cincinnati claimed that it was the best force in the United States. I also received letters written by many prominent citizens of Cincinnati, urging me not to interfere with the organization of that force, and urging the reappointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm.

"General Andrew Hickenlooper, in writing a letter to me on the 7th of March, 1900, in behalf of Mr. Burghelm, said: 'I feel no hesitation in saying that I believe his reappointment would not only be a just recognition of the service he has rendered, but will be for the best interests of our city. In fact, no better nor more acceptable action can be taken than to reappoint both Burghelm and Henshaw, whose terms are now about expiring.'

"The following gentlemen wrote personal letters, asking for the reappointment of Mr. Burghelm: George Guckenberg, George H. Boher, Max Weil, Rudolph Kleybolte, William H. Alms, H. H. Berghegger, Charles A. Nolting, W. T. Perkins, Chas. P. Taft, Levi C. Goodale, Albert F. Hoffmeister, S. J. Flickinger, George Fischer, A. B. Voorheis, S. W. Trost, L. Kleybolte, Joseph T. Carew, H. Strohbridge, Julius Fleischmann, George A. Rockwell, Henry Goepper, George N. Stone, J. B. Wallace and others.

"The following gentlemen wrote to me urging the reappointment of George Henshaw: General H. V. Boynton, Julius Fleischmann, John E. Bruce, Samuel F. Hunt, Thomas B. Paxton, John W. Herron, Henry C. Urner, W. J. Breed, John Kilgore, L. Kleybolte, Henry Mulhauser, A. C. Corne, D. C. Shears, Louis Voight, sr., W. P. Dandridge, Thomas P. Egan, W. H. Alms, Howard Ferris, Chas. H. Stephens, A. B. Voorheis, Drausius Wulsin, Adam Kramer, Herman Goeppert, Albert H. Mitchell, M. E. Ingalls, Samuel Hannaford, L. Markbreit, Chas. B. Wilby and G. N. Stone.

"For three months prior to the making of these appointments I made inquiries in regard to the efficiency of the Cincinnati police force of all gentlemen from that city who called upon me. The universal reply was, 'Let well-enough alone, and do not do anything to disturb the splendid police system we now have.'

"Before the time came to act," he replied, "I received a letter signed by John Barnes and eight others, suggesting the names of Colonel Martin B. Ewing, a Republican, and Charles A. Miller, a Democrat, for appointment in place of Max Burghelm and George Henshaw. Said letter protested against the reappointment of Burghelm and Henshaw, claiming that former action by the police commissioners of Cincinnati had been detrimental to old soldiers, and thereupon I caused an investigation to be made of the things about which they complained.

"Upon such investigation it appeared that at the time the board was appointed, in 1886, a rule was adopted which provided that no citizen should be appointed a police officer who had passed the age of 35 years. It further appeared, however, that members of the then existing force who had served in the War of the Rebellion were exempted from this age limit, the only requisite for such applications being that they should be in good physical condition. Many old soldiers were accepted who had reached the age of 50 years, and so far as patrolmen are concerned, no old soldier has been rejected by the present board, nor by any former board. If any have been refused employment, it has been by the medical board for the reason that their physical condition was not such as the law required. Prior to the first of April, 1900, there had been accepted by this board as patrolmen, 86 old soldiers. Fifteen died while in the service, six resigned, 22 were dismissed for gross dereliction of duty, six were then on the pension list, one died while on the pension list, and 36 were still doing duty as patrolmen.

"Did Mr. Barnes make any other complaint in his letter to you?" the reporter inquired.

"Yes," replied the governor, "he also criticized the police board for making a rule providing that no person over the age of 40 years should be appointed station keeper. Mr. Barnes assumed that a physically disabled man would make an efficient station-house keeper. This office has much responsibility attached. These keepers are often left in charge entirely of the station-house, they come in contact with prisoners who are violent and difficult to control and for whose safe-keeping they are held responsible; they are expected to clean the station-house, walls and windows, and perform many other duties, which old men find beyond their strength. When this rule was adopted, the board found itself overburdened with old station-house keepers and were forced by their incompetency to formulate some rule to prevent their increase, and which would gradually restore this branch of the police force to some degree of efficiency. There were in Cincinnati on the first day of April, 1900, 21 station-house keepers. Of these, 12 were old soldiers. Of this number, seven were practically useless, and will be placed on the pension roll as soon as the law will permit.

"From the investigation thus made, I was satisfied that the rules made by the police board were practical and necessary. Colonel Ewing, who was suggested by Mr. Barnes as one of the police commissioners, was already in the employ of the board, receiving the same salary he would receive if appointed police commissioner.

"When I considered the best interests of the public in Cincinnati, and the fact that the present police force was very efficient and useful, I concluded that I would do an absolute wrong if I disturbed the present board, and therefore reappointed Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm. I felt that in so doing I was in no wise violating the spirit or letter of the Clark law."

Neuralgia.

Neuralgia may attack any part of the body but most frequently occurs where the nerves are most abundant. In the head, in the face, sometimes the heart nerves seem to twist, twinging rheumatic pains of the extremities.

Sharp and intense at times in the intervals dull and heavy. Neuralgia is the result of impoverished blood caused by impairment of the nerves—a lack of nerve force.

Liniments and all external applications can only give temporary relief. Permanent cure cannot possibly come until the nerve centers are thoroughly revitalized and reinvigorated by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. The beneficial effects of this great nerve restorative are felt thrilling through the nerve fibers as week by week and month by month the nerve force of the body is restored. Women afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex are frequently great sufferers from neuralgia. Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cures both these disorders by filling the nervous system with new vigor and life. 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. FRIEND OF SOLDIERS.

Hon. Geo. K. Nash, Republican Candidate For Governor.

HE REPLIES TO AN UNJUST ATTACK

Charges which would be serious, save that they lack the necessary element of truthfulness, are made against Governor George K. Nash in a circular purporting to come from the headquarters of the "Veterans' Protective League of Hamilton County, Ohio." The circular is signed by John Barnes, as president, and John K. Hatchell, secretary, of the league. The circular is an attack upon Governor Nash for having discriminated, it is alleged, against old soldiers in making appointments in the public service. He is specifically charged with bad faith and a violation of the provisions of what is known as the Clark law relating to the employment of soldiers in official positions; and the reappointment, in April, 1900, of Messrs. George Henshaw and Max Burghelm as police commissioners of the city of Cincinnati, is made the case in point.

It is a matter of history and fact that Governor Nash, instead of discriminating against the old soldiers, has, throughout his administration, favored them in the making of appointments whenever the good conduct of public affairs would permit. So far as the specific case of the appointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm, in Cincinnati, is concerned, the records not only clear Governor Nash from the charge of discriminating against the old soldiers, but show that he pursued the course plainly indicated by the demands of the public welfare.

A reporter asked Governor Nash for a history of the circumstances relating to the appointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm, believing that the facts should be made public in order to prevent any possible misunderstanding. The governor replied:

"John Barnes wrote to me in June, 1899, after I was nominated by the Republican party as a candidate for governor, and in that letter he called my attention to the Clark law and to the alleged finding of some court that said law was unconstitutional. It would not have affected my policy whether the law was unconstitutional or not; I believe in its provisions, which required that preference should be given in public employment to honorably discharged soldiers of the Civil war, everything else being equal, and I replied to Mr. Barnes saying this in substance. In the appointments which I have made to office I have kept this principle in mind, and have given preference to ex-soldiers in all cases where I felt that the public service would permit. Serving in the various state departments under my administration, there are more than 250 veterans of the civil war, soldiers of the Spanish war and Sons of Veterans. In the office of the adjutant general alone all save one of the officers and clerks are veterans of the Rebellion or soldiers of the war with Spain.

"In April, 1900, the terms of two police commissioners in Cincinnati—Mr. George Henshaw, a Democrat, and Mr. Max Burghelm, a Republican—expired. In 1886, a law of Ohio provided a police commission for Cincinnati consisting of two Democrats and two Republicans, to be appointed by the governor. Before taking action in April, 1900, I investigated and found that the police force organized under this board was very efficient, and many citizens of Cincinnati claimed that it was the best force in the United States. I also received letters written by many prominent citizens of Cincinnati, urging me not to interfere with the organization of that force, and urging the reappointment of Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm.

"General Andrew Hickenlooper, in writing a letter to me on the 7th of March, 1900, in behalf of Mr. Burghelm, said: 'I feel no hesitation in saying that I believe his reappointment would not only be a just recognition of the service he has rendered but will be for the best interests of our city. In fact, no better nor more acceptable action can be taken than to reappoint both Burghelm and Henshaw, whose terms are now about expiring.'

"The following gentlemen wrote personal letters, asking for the reappointment of Mr. Burghelm: George Guck-enberger, George H. Boher, Max Well Rudolph Kleybolte, William H. Alms, H. H. Berghegger, Charles A. Nolting, W. T. Perkins, Chas. P. Taft, Levi C. Goodale, Albert F. Hoffmeister, S. J. Flickinger, George Fischer, A. B. Voorheis, S. W. Trost, L. Kleybolte, Joseph T. Carew, H. Strobridge, Julius Fleischmann, George A. Rockwell, Henry Geopfer, George N. Stone, J. B. Wallace and others.

"The following gentlemen wrote to me urging the reappointment of George Henshaw: General H. V. Boynton, Julius Fleischmann, John E. Bruce, Samuel F. Hunt, Thomas B. Paxton, John W. Herron, Henry C. Urner, W. J. Breed, John Kilgore, L. Kleybolte, Henry Mulhauser, A. C. Corre, D. C. Shears, Louis Volght, sr., W. P. Dandridge, Thomas P. Egan, W. H. Alms, Howard Ferris, Chas. H. Stephens, A. B. Voorheis, Drausin Wulsin, Adam Kramer, Herman Goepfert, Albert H. Mitchell, M. E. Ingalls, Samuel Hannaford, L. Markbreit, Chas. B. Wilby and G. N. Stone.

"For three months prior to the making of these appointments I made inquiries in regard to the efficiency of the Cincinnati police force of all gentlemen from that city who called upon me. The universal reply was, 'Let well-enough alone, and do not do anything to disturb the splendid police system we now have.'

"Before the time came to act," he replied, "I received a letter signed by John Barnes and eight others, suggesting the names of Colonel Martin B. Ewing, a Republican, and Charles A. Miller, a Democrat, for appointment in place of Max Burghelm and George Henshaw. Said letter protested against the reappointment of Burghelm and Henshaw, claiming that former action by the police commissioners of Cincinnati had been detrimental to old soldiers, and thereupon I caused an investigation to be made of the things about which they complained.

"Upon such investigation it appeared that at the time the board was appointed, in 1886, a rule was adopted which provided that no citizen should be appointed a police officer who had passed the age of 35 years. It further appeared, however, that members of the then existing force who had served in the War of the Rebellion were exempted from this age limit, the only requisite for such applications being that they should be in good physical condition. Many old soldiers were accepted who had reached the age of 50 years, and so far as patrolmen are concerned, no old soldier has been rejected by the present board, nor by any former board. If any have been refused employment, it has been by the medical board for the reason that their physical condition was not such as the law required. Prior to the first of April, 1900, there had been accepted by this board as patrolmen, 86 old soldiers. Fifteen died while in the service, six resigned, 22 were dismissed for gross dereliction of duty, six were then on the pension list, one died while on the pension list, and 36 were still doing duty as patrolmen.

"Did Mr. Barnes make any other complaint in his letter to you?" the reporter inquired.

"Yes," replied the governor, "he also criticised the police board for making a rule providing that no person over the age of 40 years should be appointed station keeper. Mr. Barnes assumed that a physically disabled man would make an efficient station-house keeper. This office has much responsibility attached. These keepers are often left in charge entirely of the station-house, they come in contact with prisoners who are violent and difficult to control and for whose safe-keeping they are held responsible; they are expected to clean the station-house, walls and windows, and perform many other duties, which old men find beyond their strength. When this rule was adopted, the board found itself overburdened with old station-house keepers and were forced by their incompetency to formulate some rule to prevent their increase, and which would gradually restore this branch of the police force to some degree of efficiency. There were in Cincinnati on the first day of April, 1900, 21 station-house keepers. Of these, 12 were old soldiers. Of this number, seven were practically useless, and will be placed on the pension roll at once as the law will permit.

"From the investigation thus made, I was satisfied that the rules made by the police board were practical and necessary. Colonel Ewing, who was suggested by Mr. Barnes as one of the police commissioners, was already in the employ of the board, receiving the same salary he would receive if appointed police commissioner.

"When I considered the best interests of the public in Cincinnati, and the fact that the present police force was very efficient and useful, I concluded that I would do an absolute wrong if I disturbed the present board, and therefore reappointed Messrs. Henshaw and Burghelm. I felt that in so doing I was in no wise violating the spirit or letter of the Clark law."

SAMPSON TO BE SUMMONED.

This at the Request of Rayner, to
Which Lemly Agreed—Commander
Rodgers a Witness—Lieutenant Dy-
son Also Gave Testimony.Washington, Oct. 5.—In the Schley
naval court of inquiry Mr. Rayner, chief of counsel for Admiral Schley, asked Judge Advocate Lemly to summon Admiral Sampson as a witness in the case. The request grew out of a difference in the construction of a sentence in Admiral Sampson's letter to Commodore Schley, written from Key West, May 20, while Commodore
Schley was with the flying squadron off Cienfuegos. This is known as the Dear Schley letter, and in it, as printed in the navy department documents supplied to the senate, the admiral said, after expressing his opinion that notwithstanding the report that the Spanish squadron was in Santiago, it were better to continue to blockade Cienfuegos and Havana.
"We shall continue to hold Havana and Santiago until we receive more positive information."During the examination of Commander Raymond P. Rodgers this dispatch was under consideration, when Mr.
Rayner expressed the opinion that the word "Santiago" had been inadvertently used by the commander-in-chief, assuming that he meant to use the word "Cienfuegos," as better corresponding with the context. As the document was printed there was a parenthetical note, to which Admiral Schley's initials were attached, saying that evidently the wrong city had been mentioned. Mr. Rayner asked Judge Advocate Lemly to make this concession, but the latter declined to do so, saying that he would produce the original of Admiral Sampson's dispatch to prove that he had said Santiago. Then Mr. Rayner said:
"I cannot take that word Santiago to mean anything but Cienfuegos. It is an imputation upon Commodore Schley, and I cannot permit it to rest without summoning the author of that dispatch."to which Captain Lemly responded:
"I have told you once before you can summon anyone you please."

Then, retorted Mr. Rayner, "summon Admiral Sampson."
This occurred only a short time before the adjournment of the court until today and was the subject of more or less conversation of an animated character after the day's work was concluded. Mr. Rayner would only say that he would insist upon the admiral being summoned unless the correction was conceded.The witnesses were Lieutenant C.
W. Dyson, of the bureau of steam engineering, concerning the coal supply of the flying squadron; Commander Raymond P. Rodgers, who was second in command of the battleship Iowa during the Spanish war and carried Admiral Sampson's dispatches of May 20 to Commodore Schley, and Commander Alton C. Hodgson, who was the navigator of the flagship Brooklyn. While Commander Rodgers was on the stand Mr. Rayner submitted a computation of shells from the American fleet which had struck the wrecked vessels of Cervera's squadron, showing that at least 34 per cent
of them were fired by the Brooklyn.
This computation, Mr. Rayner said, had been prepared by Admiral Schley upon the basis of a report made by a board of survey, of which the witness was the senior member.Commander Hodgson gave a graphic description of the battle off Santiago, describing the part taken in it by the Brooklyn and explaining the change in the entry of that vessel's log. His testimony was in part:
"We were then standing for the enemy, and as soon as the guns were brought to bear Lieutenant Simpson fired a little off the port bow the first gun forward, 8-inch turret. From thatBon AmiContains no acid or alkali to injure the hands or surfaces.time on we went considerably in toward them."I then went down to where the commodore was standing to get into the conning tower, when I heard him sing out, 'Look out, Cook, they are going to ram you.'""Captain Cook said he would look after that, and starboarded the helm
a little to parallel the course of the leading vessel, the Maria Teresa, which had made a broad sheer to port.""He had hardly made that sheer,
however, to port before he fell off again for the reason, apparently, that a shot was fired from the Brooklyn's 8-inch gun. The Teresa got abaft our port beam and helm was ported on the Brooklyn immediately after that.
We were swinging with port helm.
I heard the commodore sing out,
'hard port,' or words to that effect, and Captain Cook sang out, 'helm is port.' I saw at that time the crucial moment had arrived in making the turn, and I suggested to the commodore that that turn would run us into the Texas or very close to her.""What did you say and what was the reply?" asked the judge advocate.

Schley Said "D--- the Texas."

"As near as I can remember I said, Commodore, if you go to starboard,
you will run into the Texas," and he said, 'Damn the Texas. I cannot help that. She must look out for herself.'
He said, 'I do not propose to go in any closer and subject myself to a 'torpedo attack.' I suggested then that we back the starboard engine, and he wanted to know why, and I said, 'Because it would give the Texas a wider berth and shorten our turning circle.'
Captain Cook objected to this and so did the commodore, but there was a moment's discussion as to whether it would be better to turn that shorter
larger tactical diameter with faster
very essential to get around quickly, so the leading Spanish ship was then standin' to the westward, and if the Brooklyn did not stop her she had a good chance of escaping. So the helm was put hard port.""I said I would run up on top of the bridge and look out for the Texas.
As I was going up I asked the chief quartermaster if he had seen a torpedo boat, and he said he had seen one blown up by a large shell way in the rear. I said I had not seen any,
as I told the commodore previously.
The helm, however, was kept hard port. The Brooklyn swung clear of the Texas, and brought around with helm hard port until she brought in sight the leading Spanish vessel, which was then the Viscaya, the
shore, seeking a berth. As soon as we were around at the proper position
the helm was eased so that we paral-
at that time was about 2,400 or 2,500 yards on our starboard bow. The
little forward of the beam; the
The Oquendo very soon fell out and ran ashore on fire, and then we devoted our attention solely to the Colon and Viscaya."

How Near Was the Texas

Judge Advocate—How near was the Texas to the Brooklyn when the latter crossed her bow?"I suppose it was about 250 to 300 yards.""Have you ever given this estimate as near or nearer than that?"

"Yes, sir."

"One hundred and fifty yards."

"Why do you change it now?"

"Because I have read from my notes written the day after the battle and from notes I used on the board of navigators. I concluded from those that my estimates at the time when I gave it 175 to 250 yards was too near. Also, I was very much influenced by the thought that the nav-
think it was less than 250 yards.""Just read your entry from your notes."

which the helm was originally put?""I think I remember that erasure.
The word 'starboard' was erased and
the word 'port' substituted.""Do you remember discussing that
with anyone in the presence of Commodore Schley and Captain Cook?"

"I do not."

"Do you regard that as a correct entry in the log book that the helm was put to port in order to bring the starboard battery to bear?""No, that was not the reason for which the helm was put to port. It was put to port to bring the Brooklyn
around as quickly as possible to head off the Spanish vessel.""Would not the Brooklyn have been brought around quicker if the helm
had been put starboard, as it was recorded in the log book originally?"

"I think she would."

fire of the Texas,' are they right?""That is right. That is a point that impressed me. Fortunately we got around without having one of the Texas' guns fired over us.""The words, 'clear of the fire of the Texas,' are the interlined words, are they not?"

"They are."

"Did you give any specific instructions or make any specific suggestions to the officer who wrote the log with regard to putting in those words?""I think it was very possible I did.
I think it more than probable that I did, because that was the fact that impressed me as the result of swinging with the port helm. I was very thankful we cleared the Texas and her fire."

Rodgers a Witness—Lieutenant Dy-
son Also Gave Testimony.Washington, Oct. 5.—In the Schley
naval court of inquiry Mr. Rayner, chief of counsel for Admiral Schley,
asked Judge Advocate Lemly to summon Admiral Sampson as a witness
a difference in the construction of a sentence in Admiral Sampson's letter
Key West, May 20, while Commodore
Schley was with the flying squadron off Cienfuegos. This is known as the
Dear Schley letter, and in it, as
printed in the navy department documents supplied to the senate, the admiral said, after expressing his opinion
that notwithstanding the report that the Spanish squadron was in Santiago, it was better to continue to blockade Cienfuegos and Havana.
"We shall continue to hold Havana
and Santiago until we receive more positive information."During the examination of Commander Raymond P. Rodgers this dispatch was under consideration, when Mr.
Rayner expressed the opinion that the word "Santiago" had been inadvertently used by the commander-in-chief, assuming that he meant to use
the word "Cienfuegos," as better corresponding with the context. As the document was printed there was a parenthetical note, to which Admiral Schley's initials were attached, saying that evidently the wrong city had been mentioned. Mr. Rayner asked Judge Advocate Lemly to make this
concession, but the latter declined to do so, saying that he would produce
the original of Admiral Sampson's dispatch to prove that he had said Santiago. Then Mr. Rayner said:
"I cannot take that word Santiago
to mean anything but Cienfuegos. It is an imputation upon Commodore Schley, and I cannot permit it to rest
without summoning the author of that dispatch."To which Captain Lemly responded:
"I have told you once before you can summon anyone you please."Sampson to Be Summoned.Then, retorted Mr. Rayner, "summon Admiral Sampson."
This occurred only a short time before the adjournment of the court until today and was the subject of more
or less conversation of an animated character after the day's work was concluded. Mr. Rayner would only
say that he would insist upon the admiral being summoned unless the correction was conceded.The witnesses were Lieutenant C.
W. Dyson, of the bureau of steam engineering, concerning the coal supply
of the flying squadron; Commander Raymond P. Rodgers, who was second in command of the battleship Iowa
during the Spanish war and carried
Admiral Sampson's dispatches of May 20 to Commodore Schley, and Commander Alton C. Hodgson, who was the navigator of the flagship Brooklyn. While Commander Rodgers was on the stand Mr. Rayner submitted a computation of shells from the American fleet which had struck the wrecked vessels of Cervera's squadron,
showing that at least 34 per cent
of them were fired by the Brooklyn.
This computation, Mr. Rayner said,
had been prepared by Admiral Schley
upon the basis of a report made by a board of survey, of which the witness
was the senior member.Commander Hodgson gave a graphic description of the battle off Santiago, describing the part taken
in it by the Brooklyn and explaining
the change in the entry of that vessel's log. His testimony was in part:
"We were then standing for the enemy, and as soon as the guns were brought to bear Lieutenant Simpson
fired a little off the port bow the first gun forward, 8-inch turret. From thatBon AmiContains no acid or alkali to injure the hands or surfaces.time on we went considerably in toward them."I then went down to where the
commodore was standing to get into
the conning tower, when I heard him
sing out, 'Look out, Cook, they are going to ram you.'""Captain Cook said he would look after that, and starboarded the helm
a little to parallel the course of the
leading vessel, the Maria Teresa,
which had made a broad sheer to port.""He had hardly made that sheer,
however, to port before he fell off
again for the reason, apparently, that
a shot was fired from the Brooklyn's 8-inch gun. The Teresa got abaft our port beam and helm was ported on
the Brooklyn immediately after that.
We were swinging with port helm.
I heard the commodore sing out,
'hard aport,' or words to that effect,
and Captain Cook sang out, 'helm is aport.' I saw at that time the crucial moment had arrived in making the
turn, and I suggested to the commodore that that turn would run us into the Texas or very close to her.""What did you say and what was the reply?" asked the judge advocate.Schley Said "D--- the Texas.""As near as I can remember I said,
'Commodore, if you go to starboard,
you will run into the Texas,' and he said, 'Damn the Texas. I cannot help
that. She must look out for herself.
He will take care of that.' And he also said, 'I do not propose to go in any closer and subject myself to a torpedo attack.' I suggested then that
we back the starboard engine, and he wanted to know why, and I said, 'Because it would give the Texas a wide berth and shorten our turning circle.'
Captain Cook objected to this and so
did the commodore, but there was a moment's discussion as to whether it would be better to turn that shorter
circle with smaller speed or take the
larger tactical diameter with faster speed. It was decided that it was very essential to get around quickly, the leading Spanish ship was then standing to the westward, and if the Brooklyn did not stop her she had a good chance of escaping. So the helm was put hard aport.""I said I would run up on top of the bridge and look out for the Texas.
As I was going up I asked the chief quartermaster if he had seen a torpedo boat, and he said he had seen
one blown up by a large shell way in the rear. I said I had not seen any,
as I told the commodore previously.
The helm, however, was kept hard aport. The Brooklyn swung clear of the Texas, and brought around with helm hard aport until she brought in sight the leading Spanish vessel,
which was then the Viscaya, the Teresa having fallen off and gone in shore, seeking a berth. As soon as we were around at the proper position
the helm was eased so that we paralleled the course of the Viscaya, which
yards on our starboard bow. The Colon was probably on the beam or a little forward of the beam; the Oquendo abaft the starboard beam.
The Oquendo very soon fell out and
ran ashore on fire, and then we de-
Colon and Viscaya."How Near Was the TexasJudge Advocate—How near was the Texas to the Brooklyn when the latter crossed her bow?"I suppose it was about 250 to 300 yards.""Have you ever given this estimate
as near or nearer than that?"

"Yes, sir."

"What have you given before?"

"One hundred and fifty yards."

"Why do you change it now?"

"Because I have read from my notes written the day after the battle and
from notes I used on the board of
navigators. I concluded from those
that my estimates at the time when
I gave it 175 to 250 yards was too
near. Also, I was very much influenced by the thought that the navigating officer of the Texas would not think it was less than 250 yards.""Just read your entry from your notes."The witness (reading)—"We quickly put our helm to port and then around to starboard, passing well inside the Texas. That was written by me the day after the battle.""Is there any reference to the distance you were from the Texas in those notes?"

"No, sir."

"Do you remember whether anything was said about blanketing the fire of the Texas at that time?""When I told the commodore I thought we would run into the Texas, I think I did say that we might get a shot from one of her big guns.""Have you ever said that you were 'skittish' about a collision with the Texas at this time?""Well, I was skittish about it. I thought we were going to have a collision very likely with the Texas.""How was the collision avoided, from what you know of your own knowledge?""By our getting around so quick we passed ahead of her.""You cannot tell me what was done about the Texas?"

"I have no idea."

Regarding Change of the Log."Do you remember any discussion on board the Brooklyn as to the direction that the helm was put when she made what is known as the 'loop'?""Well, I think I remember the fact of putting an interlineation in this log because an erasure was made of that word 'starboard,' and I suggested putting in the explanatory words that we 'cleared the Texas.'""Do you remember whether any change was made in the log book in the recording of the direction in which the helm was originally put?""I think I remember that erasure.
The word 'starboard' was erased and
the word 'port' substituted.""Do you remember discussing that
modore Schley and Captain Cook?"

"I do not."

"Do you regard that as a correct
entry in the log book that the helm
was put to port in order to bring the starboard battery to bear?""No, that was not the reason for which the helm was put to port. It
was put to port to bring the Brooklyn
around as quickly as possible to head
off the Spanish vessel.""Would not the Brooklyn have been brought around quicker if the helm
had been put starboard, as it was recorded in the log book originally?"

"I think she would."

"These words, 'swinging clear of the fire of the Texas,' are they right?""That is right. That is a point that impressed me. Fortunately we got around without having one of the Texas' guns fired over us.""The words, 'clear of the fire of the Texas,' are the interlined words, are they not?"

"They are."

"Did you give any specific instructions or make any specific suggestions to the officer who wrote the log with regard to putting in those words?""I think it was very possible I did.
I think it more than probable that I did, because that was the fact that
impressed me as the result of swinging with the port helm. I was very thankful we cleared the Texas and

Its Formation Completed and the Eighteenth District Well Represented.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 5.—D. Q. Morrow, chairman of the league of Republican clubs, has completed the formation of an advisory board for the organization. Three of the members appointed are from the Eighteenth district, as follows: Attorney James G. Grant, a prominent Canton man, and Messrs. W. R. Stewart and Harry Thomas, of Youngstown. Mr. Stewart is a colored attorney and represents Mahoning county in the legislature. Columbiana county is not represented on the board. Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, and Judge W. McD. Miller, of Steubenville, were made members. President Morrow is stationed at the Republican bureau in this city. A meeting of the board will be called this for the purpose of giving consideration to matters connected with the campaign.

William Jennings Bryan seems possessed of an inordinate desire to take part in the Ohio campaign. He has written to the state committee expressing deep solicitude in the candidacy of Colonel Kilbourne, and stating he would not be averse to coming here to aid the Democracy in the approaching conflict. His coming is problematical. His price is high, and the committee would probably have difficulty in meeting it, for they are in a bad way for funds. This fact is freely admitted by them. They lacked the funds necessary for legitimate expenses, and it is very patent that their speaking campaign will not be noted for aggressiveness.

Martin Cowan, chief inspector under Dairy and Food Commissioner J. E. Blackburn, is now at work in the eastern part of the state looking for violators of the poor food laws. He spent some time in Columbiana county and now is in Mahoning county. He will probably conduct an investigation in Stark county soon. These counties are the most important in his district, which takes in the southeastern section of the state. He makes Bellaire

Commissioner Blackburn said last evening that his department had no cases to prosecute at present, but of course was unable to tell when and where violations might be discovered. The department failed to win several suits which were brought in East Liverpool several months ago. The department seems to think the jury system militated against verdicts in its favor.

State Librarian C. B. Galbreath, as chairman of the committee on libraries and schools, made an address on the relation of the library to the school at the convention of Ohio librarians at Sandusky. He returned yesterday and spoke flatteringly of the new Carnegie building at Sandusky. This institution was established at a cost of $50,000, and is one of the four libraries donated in Ohio by Andrew Carnegie. This gift was bestowed soon after Carnegie made known his willingness to endow East Liverpool with a library.

An event of interest will be the annual convention of the Ohio Sunday School Field workers, which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building, this city, Thursday, Oct. 17. Delegates will be present from every county in the state. Rev. J. A. Platts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mingo, and formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of East Liverpool, is down on the program for an address, "Preliminary Work in Inspiration," a topic assigned under the subject "The Tour Plan: How to Make it of the Largest Value to the County and Township Work." will be discussed by Rev. Mr. Platts. Mr. Platts is a forceful speaker. He has taken an energetic part in furthering the work of the league.

All the churches in the state will be asked to observe the last Sunday in October as prison Sunday. This is the day fixed by the national prison congress for observance of prison Sunday, and everywhere special services are proposed in which the cause, and effect of crime and its prevention will be treated.

P. J. McCloskey, of East Liverpool, has been elected High Deputy Ruler of the Independent Order of Rechabites, which has concluded its annual convention at Zanesville. Mr. McCloskey has filled many exalted positions in the state organization. The next meeting will be held at Midland, Md., the first Tuesday in October, 1902. The annual convention of the Ohio Rechabites a year ago was held in East Liverpool.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 5.—D. Q. Morrow, chairman of the league of Republican clubs, has completed the formation of an advisory board for the organization. Three of the members appointed are from the Eighteenth district, as follows: Attorney James G. Grant, a prominent Canton man, and Messrs. W. R. Stewart and Harry Thomas, of Youngstown. Mr. Stewart is a colored attorney and represents Mahoning county in the legislature. Columbiana county is not represented on the board. Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, and Judge W. McD. Miller, of Steubenville, were made members. President Morrow is stationed at the Republican bureau in this city. A meeting of the board will be called this for the purpose of giving consideration to matters connected with the campaign.

William Jennings Bryan seems possessed of an inordinate desire to take part in the Ohio campaign. He has written to the state committee expressing deep solicitude in the candidacy of Colonel Kilbourne, and stating he would not be averse to coming here to aid the Democracy in the approaching conflict. His coming is problematical. His price is high, and the committee would probably have difficulty in meeting it, for they are in a bad way for funds. This fact is freely admitted by them. They lacked the funds necessary for legitimate expenses, and it is very patent that their speaking campaign will not be noted for aggressiveness.

Martin Cowan, chief inspector under Dairy and Food Commissioner J. E. Blackburn, is now at work in the eastern part of the state looking for violators of the poor food laws. He spent some time in Columbiana county and now is in Mahoning county. He will probably conduct an investigation in Stark county soon. These counties are the most important in his district, which takes in the southeastern section of the state. He makes Bellaire

Commissioner Blackburn said last evening that his department had no cases to prosecute at present, but of course was unable to tell when and where violations might be discovered. The department failed to win several suits which were brought in East Liverpool several months ago. The department seems to think the jury system militated against verdicts in its favor.

State Librarian C. B. Galbreath, as chairman of the committee on libraries and schools, made an address on the relation of the library to the school at the convention of Ohio librarians at Sandusky. He returned yesterday and spoke flatteringly of the new Carnegie building at Sandusky. This institution was established at a cost of $50,000, and is one of the four libraries donated in Ohio by Andrew Carnegie. This gift was bestowed soon after Carnegie made known his willingness to endow East Liverpool with a library.

An event of interest will be the annual convention of the Ohio Sunday School Field workers, which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building, this city, Thursday, Oct. 17. Delegates will be present from every county in the state. Rev. J. A. Platts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mingo, and formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of East Liverpool, is down on the program for an address. "Preliminary Work in Inspiration," a topic assigned under the subject "The Tour Plan: How to Make it of the Largest Value to the County and Township Work," will be discussed by Rev. Mr. Platts. Mr. Platts is a forceful speaker. He has taken an energetic part in furthering the work of the league.

All the churches in the state will be asked to observe the last Sunday in October as prison Sunday. This is the day fixed by the national prison congress for observance of prison Sunday, and everywhere special services are proposed in which the cause, and effect of crime and its prevention will be treated.

P. J. McCloskey, of East Liverpool, has been elected High Deputy Ruler of the High Tent of North America of the Independent Order of Rechabites, which has concluded its annual convention at Zanesville. Mr. McCloskey has filled many exalted positions in the state organization. The next meeting will be held at Midland, Md., the first Tuesday in October, 1902. The annual convention of the Ohio Rechabites a year ago was held in East Liverpool.
